

LEAN PRACTITIONER

Getting Lean through Kaizen

Packing the basics of Lean into a 3 day course you will learn the art of Kaizen improvement. Kaizen events are short but very effective improvement workshops designed to tackle problems quickly and effectively whilst stimulating a lean culture in all levels of the company.

This course teaches the Thinking, Approach and Tools required to implement Lean improvements through Kaizen based rapid improvement methodology.

PMI's Lean Practitioner training ensures you will:

- Understand how to identify and eliminate waste and non value added activity from processes
- Understand how to plan and execute successful Kaizen events
- Learn core Lean principles such as Pull, Flow and Work Balancing
- Acquire skills in applying the main Lean tools and be able to apply them back in the workplace
- Understand how Lean is applied in the context of process management
- Further develop their personal leadership skills in business improvement.

Short, fast and effective improvements

Kaizen methods enable you to guide small focused teams through the application of these approaches in order to bring about rapid process improvements and business benefits whilst stimulating an exciting continuous improvement culture.

You will be exposed to Lean principles such as Waste elimination, Pull and Flow as well as various tools and techniques that can enable the application of these principles.

Throughout the course you are given the opportunity to practise the techniques using a live improvement simulation.

What's Included?

- 3 days of classroom training
- Comprehensive course material
- 12 month access to the Lean Essentials Series

WHAT'S NEXT? LEAN EXPERT

Once you have become a Lean Practitioner why not continue your journey and become a Lean Expert and learn how to engage the wider business in Lean thinking. Influence and coach a range of stakeholders in the Lean change process.

WAYS TO EXPERIENCE THIS COURSE:

How long does it take?

3 days of classroom training.

What are the benefits?

- Your team will be engaged in projects that deliver more value for customers, make processes easier to operate and become more efficient
- A culture of continuous improvement - where improvement is owned by all, not just the few.

Who should attend?

The course is suitable for anyone up to middle management positions who wishes to improve their processes including those who operate the actual process and those overseeing them.

How can I do it?

Either as an in-house programme in your company or organisation OR as part of our public training programme.

The public schedule operates throughout Europe and the Middle East.

Visit our website for the latest locations and dates.